Will Dedicate New Church Soon

Program of Lutheran Ceremony Announced

An important event in Narberth's history will soon take place in the dedication of the new building of the Lutheran Church, at Narberth at Woodbine avenues.

The dedication, which will take place on May 24, 1925, will consist of six district services, three on Sundays and three on week evenings respectively on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings at 8 o'clock.

On Sunday, at 11, there will be a regular preaching service with an able speaker and good music.

In the afternoon, at 3 o'clock, the dedicatory service will take place with Dr. I. Chantry Hoffman, of Philadelphia, secretary of the Board of Home Missions, as the speaker. There will be special music by the choir and specially selected, trained singers.

In the evening, at 7:45 o'clock, there will be a service, with Rev. Nathan R. Melhorn, editor of The Lutheran, Philadelphia, and Rev. S. D. Daugherty, D. D., superintendent of missions, as the speakers. Good music has been provided and the service will be pleasant and helpful.

On Tuesday evening there will be a community meeting with music, an address by Rev. A. C. Kanzing, of Ardmore, and greetings by local pastors. This will be a delightful meeting.

On Wednesday evening a missionary service will be held with appropriate addresses and special music.

On Thursday evening a social time will be given after exercises and music and a delightfully humorous speech by Rev. Chamberlain, a Lutheran pastor of the city. Light refreshments will be served.

Rev. Milton E. McLinn, under whose pastorate this structure has been reared, has expressed appreciation of the spirit and labors of his congregation. In announcing the dedication he said:

"This is by common consent and frequent comment a most beautiful structure—well built, attractive in appearance and admirably suited to the work which the church proposes to do. The Lutheran congregation here have nobly acted out their part and deserve the fine house of worship they have so patiently and laboriously reared. They will rejoice in the finishing of their splendid task and in the setting apart of the building to the glorious work which it is designed to do, and it is the desire of their noble band to have all the churches of our town rejoice and be glad with them. And they can well do so, because this fine, generous Lutheran congregation has been no burden or inconvenience to anyone in the neighborhood, but has done its work in its own quiet way with the patent result of being a help to the borough and vicinity in every way."

JEANNE ALICE VAN ZANDT

Jeanne Alice, the 18-month-old child of Mrs. Juliet Van Zandt, died at Cape May on Wednesday night.

The loss of the baby is the third death in the family within three months. Lieutenant George Van Zandt, the father, died in February from the effects of gassing suffered during the war. The other child, Katharine, died last month, and the death of the baby leaves only Mrs. Van Zandt surviving.

Mrs. Van Zandt is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Gold, of Woodbine avenue, and recently purchased the Narberth Beauty Shop from her sister, Mrs. Helen Toland. She has expressed through "Our Town" her thanks for the many expressions of sympathy which have come to her.

The Beaded Bag.

The beaded bag at the recent Community Club Carnival was won by Miss Margaretta Runyon, who guessed nearest to the correct number of beads.

The committee found that the bag contained 16,093 beads. Miss Runyon's guess was 16,113—only 20 beads away from the correct total.

Most of the guesses were wide of the mark, although several others came within a hundred of the correct count.

Successful Luncheon is Held By Women Voters

Many Local Members attend annual affair At Cricket Club

Over 20 Narberth women were among the 350 members who attended the annual luncheon conference of the Montgomery County League of Women Voters last Thursday at the Merion Cricket Club. The arrangements were in charge of the Lower Merion League. The chairman, Miss Sydney Evans, opened the conference and turned it over to Miss Gertrude Ely, county chairman of the league.

The first speaker was Mr. James McDonald, president of the Foreign Policy Association of New York. His subject was "International Relations." Around the questions, "Are the wounds of war and peace treaties healing clean, or do they merely hide poison of new wars," and "are we nearer permanent peace?" he outlined the significant facts that must be taken into consideration for formation of intelligent opinion on the questions. He spoke of Russia as presenting Bolshevism entrenched, but much modified from its earliest form, so that at present it is steadily forced to concede to the sanity of realities and standards in capitalistic countries, doing so to such an extent that now she has official contacts with all leading countries except the United States, these facts meaning uncertainty whether or not she will develop into a powerful democracy or remain, as at present, the enigma of Europe.

Present conditions in Bulgaria were described as typical in an exaggerated form of the struggle between rural and official city groups in the various Balkan States between which there exist many excuses for the out-cropping of trouble at any time.

In Germany economic conditions seem better for the present and future than they were a year ago. Except in France, opinion in general, is that the election of Hindenburg will not materially alter Germany's foreign policy. The German President is vested with very little power, and as Hindenburg was only a minority candidate, his personal leadership with its monarchistic tendencies is not likely to be a menace to the existing order of things in Germany. In fact, with the failure of monarchistic hopes to materialize, the republic may be strengthened and gain prestige. It now seems to be up to Germany to prove that the election is not indicative of her desire to upset the world. It is to be hoped that Germany will judge it wise to fulfill her part of the Dawes Plan, assure French security, and enter the League of Nations.

France is a country in sore financial straits even though her people are unusually hard working and thrifty. Turning at this point to the financial genius Cail-laux, previously reviled as a possible pro-German and as an arch-enemy of Clemenceau, means, France thinks of the war as over, and that she is intelligent rather than sentimental. The foreign policy of France probably will not be altered.

Tribute was paid by the speaker to the sanity and accomplishments of a the short-lived labor-government in England. It seemed to be not so much a question of which party is in power there, but the problem of unemployment with the attendant need to find markets. This need is steadily forcing England away from sympathy for France, to-

A FREE LECTURE

On Christian Science in Ardmore Friday.

The First Church of Christ Scientist, of Ardmore, Pa., cordially invites the public to attend a free lecture to be delivered by Mr. John W. Dorley, C. S. B., of London, England, in the Masonic Hall, Ardmore avenue, Ardmore, on Friday evening, May 15, at 8:15 o'clock, laylight saving time. The subject will be "Christian Science; The Science of the Unity of God and His Creation." Doors will open at 7:30.

Mr. Dorley is a member of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

WIN THEIR BADGES

Seven Narberth Boy Scouts Pass Tests.

Twenty-three merit badges were awarded last week to seven members of the Narberth Boy Scout troop.

To secure a badge in any subject a scout must pass a test before an expert examiner and be finally passed by the Main Line Court of Honor.

The successful boys are:

George Maguire, electricity, swimming, first aid and personal health.

Robert Dohard, path finding and first aid.

Charles Ligrest, public health, personal health and first aid.

Byron Morton, electricity and path finding.

Horace Sheneman, electricity and path finding.

Robert Harris, first aid, personal health, electricity, path finding and camping.

Bill Henderson, public health, personal health, first aid, swimming and electricity.

The troop committee acknowledges the following additional contributions:

New Roll of Honor Members are Edward Stanley, Rev. Harry M. Chalfant, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fellows Wood, Scout Arthur N. Edrop and Girl Scout Marjorie Edrop.

FINAL LUNCHEON

Community Club Year to Close Tuesday.

The closing luncheon of the Community Club will be held in the club room on Tuesday, May 12. After the luncheon, the regular business, including the election of three new directors, will be disposed of as speedily as possible. Following the business meeting there will be a program of music and fun.

Miss Dorothy Fox will play a harp solo and Mrs. Joseph Barclay, a former member of our club, will sing.

The cover charge is to be very reasonable and a large attendance is expected. Therefore, it behooves every member who is coming to the luncheon to make her reservation early, as the hospitality committee find it more difficult each season to make seating arrangements.

VAUCLAIN PRAISES

Main Line Music Festival Male Chorus.

Recently commenting upon the program of the Main Line music festival to be given on June 6, Bryn Mawr Polo Field, Mr. Samuel M. Vauclain, president of the Bryn Mawr Hospital, expressed his opinion that the male chorus is one of the most popular features of this annual concert, and that the time given by these singers to make this affair such a success warrants a ready response and support from the residents of the Main Line vicinity. Mr. Vauclain further stated that he came each year especially to hear this chorus, and was looking forward to their program on June 6.

One of the numbers on the June 6 program will be a lovely obligato which Mme. Anna Roselle, dramatic soprano, will sing with the male chorus.

Any information regarding the male chorus or details of the concert can be secured from Mr. Joseph McGarrity, 226 Forrest avenue, Mr. Russell A. Cuthbert, Merion, or from Clarence C. Nice, musical director, Main Line music festival, Bryn Mawr, Pa., or telephone Narberth 1608.

Marines Entertain Local Scout Troop

Narberth Boys Enjoy Trip To Supply Department

One of the jolliest outings ever attended by Troop No. 1, of the Boy Scouts of Narberth, was held last Saturday, when the entire troop boarded busses and motored to the Marine Corps Depot of Supplies, No. 1100 South Broad street, Philadelphia, where, for a while, they were entertained by the U. S. Marines.

As soon as the boys arrived at their destination, at 11 A. M., they assembled on the steps of the depot for their photo, the U. S. Marines posing with their young guests. Scout Master Arthur L. Cooke and Assistant Scout Master J. B. Wilson, accompanied by seven committeemen, met Captain W. J. Crosson upon their arrival and in a few minutes the troop filed into the building.

The entire depot was turned over to the visitors. Then things happened, one incident following the other so rapidly that it is doubtful if the boys themselves could recall the events in detail.

The boys were led to the large room where all kinds of Marine Corps materials are kept. Here they were given an interesting talk by Gunnery Sergeant Tyerman, who stripped and assembled Colt automatics, machine guns and other weapons, explaining in detail how each worked. Some of the boys showed a remarkable knowledge of the nomenclature of firearms, readily naming the various parts when held by the sergeant.

Next the print shop was visited, the boys watching the big presses turning out posters and other printed matter used by the marines. Nobody cautioned the lads to keep "hands off," as it was the intention of the marines to let their youthful guests have the full run of the building. Indeed no such admonition was necessary, the department of the Scouts being far better than what might be expected of much older guests.

A surprise was furnished the Scouts when they visited the photo department, and saw finished copies of the group photo of themselves, which they had posed for a half an hour earlier on the steps of the depot.

The tour of the building led through the clothing department, where uniforms for the marines are made, the boys being greatly interested in the cutting machines. They saw tents, flags, chevrons and other paraphernalia, dear to the heart of a Boy Scout, in the process of manufacture.

New Realty Wrinkle.

A new wrinkle in real estate boosting and community organization is being inaugurated by Mr. Martin Molony, who is developing the old Belmont race track in the General Wayne district. He has formed the Merion Park Civic Association and every one who purchases a home in the operation becomes automatically a member of this organization, which Mr. Molony declares is formed for community service and protection.

The association recently sent out booster literature to prospective home buyers, whereupon it became confused with the Merion Civic Association.

Republican Luncheon.

The Republican women of Narberth are invited to attend the fourth annual luncheon of the Republican Women of Pennsylvania, to be held Tuesday, May 12, at 1:30 in the Bellevue-Stratford Ballroom. The speakers are Mrs. Rudolph Blankenburg, Honorable George Wharton Pepper and Honorable Richard Washburn Child, former Ambassador to Italy.

Tickets are $2. Call Mrs. E. C. Griswold, Narberth 652-J. until Monday.

Called to West.

Postmaster Fred C. Patten was called to Sheboygan, Wis., to attend the funeral of his mother, Mrs. E. M. Patten, who died last Saturday.

Annual Meeting of Trust Company

Merion Title Re-Elects Directors

Growth, stability and prosperity were shown at the annual meeting of the Merion Title and Trust Company held last week in the company's building, Ardmore.

Each year five of the 15 members of the Board of Directors are elected and this year the following were re-elected: Parker S. Williams, Winthrop Sargent, Jr., Henry Delaplaine, John S. Clarke and L. Stanley King.

The Board of Directors has declared a regular dividend of 8 per cent. for the six months ending March 31 and an extra dividend of 2 per cent.

Richard J. Hamilton, president, presented a report that reflected very creditably on the company's management and showed the Merion Title and Trust Company to be an institution with its $3,500,000 resources, that the whole Main Line section can point to with pride, and also indicative of the wonderful growth of Lower Merion and vicinity.

Since March 1, 1920, the deposits have grown from $2,800,000 to $6,800,000, an increase of $4,000,000 or an average yearly increase of $800,000. Trust funds and corporate trusts amount to $1,830,000. The fiscal year just closed was the most successful in the history of the company.

The company's depositors now number 17,600 and during the last five years it has paid $800,000 as interest to depositors and dividends to stockholders.

There are only three trust companies along the Main Line of the Pennsylvania Railroad from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh larger than the Merion Title and Trust Company. The number of employees now number 90, having grown from 45 as in 1920.

The statement of the company as of March 31, 1925, a copy of which was published in "Our Town" last week, shows the company to have been wonderfully successful and augurs much for the financial stability of the community.

The following officers were re-elected for the ensuing year:

Richard J. Hamilton, president; Herbert A. Arnold, M. D., vice president; M. P. Clancy, assistant president; Horatio L. Yocum, vice president; Daniel Leitch, treasurer; Horace W. Smedley, secretary; David W. Charles, assistant treasurer; George W. Super, assistant secretary; Harry C. Bare, title and trust officer; Daniel J. Kennedy, assistant title officer; E. William Pyle, assistant trust officer, and Joseph Cairns, Jr., real estate officer.

Girl Scout Sunday.

Sunday, May 17, is Girl Scout Sunday. All the Girl Scouts on the Main Line will attend church services on that morning at one of three churches—St. Martin's Church in Radnor, the Bryn Mawr Presbyterian and the Narberth Baptist are the chosen churches. The Narberth Scouts and those in nearby towns will all go to the Narberth Baptist Church. Mr. Keighton has very kindly prepared a special program for the girls and it will be a most interesting and inspiring service for all.

Benefit Card Party.

A card party was held Monday at the home of Mrs. Romaine C. Hoffman for the benefit of the Devon Horse Show fund of the Bryn Mawr Hospital. Mrs. Robert M. Town is the local chairman.

Motored to Shore.

Mrs. Harold C. Fenno, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Marshall R. Ford and Mrs. C. L. McKee motored this week to Atlantic City to spend several days.

Congratulations.

A new candidate for a job in the local post office has appeared in the form of Mr. Lester Edward Peters, Jr., 6 pounds 1 ounce son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Peters, of 24 Haverford avenue.

Tennis Schedule Announced

Narberth Club Has Good Prospects

The Narberth tennis team will open its Division "A" League schedule today, playing the Belfield Whites at Belfield.

Captain of the Narberth team reports the prospects most favorable for a very successful season. All the old stars are rapidly rounding into form and some of the newer members of the club seem to have the necessary ability to make a place for themselves on the team. Narberth's full schedule is as follows:

May 9, Narberth vs. Belfield Whites at Belfield; May 16, Narberth vs. Penn A. C. at Narberth; May 23, Narberth vs. Overbrook at Overbrook; May 30, Narberth vs. Idle Hour "A" at Narberth; June 6, Narberth vs. Belfield Blues at Narberth; June 13, Narberth vs. Cynwyd at Cynwyd; June 20, Narberth vs. West Jersey at West Jersey; June 27, Narberth vs. Belfield Whites at Narberth; July 11, Narberth vs. Penn A. C. at Penn A. C.; July 18, Narberth vs. Overbrook at Narberth; July 25, Narberth vs. Idle Hour "A" at Idle Hour; August 1, Narberth vs. Belfield Blues at Belfield; August 8, Narberth vs. Cynwyd at Narberth; August 15, Narberth vs. West Jersey at Narberth.

Starting Saturday, May 16, the usual Saturday dinners will be served in the club house. Those who wish to make reservations should get in touch with Mrs. Staples not later than 6 P. M. Friday. Phone Narberth 370-R.

LEAGUE TO MEET

Magistrate Fahnestock to Speak in Narberth.

Philadelphia's only woman Magistrate will address the meeting of the League of Women Voters on Monday, May 11, at 2:30 P. M. in the Y. M. C. A.

Mrs. Fahnestock was appointed to her present post by Governor Pinchot and comes up for election this fall. She will speak of her experiences in her official capacity and it is not too much to anticipate interesting accounts in connection with her pioneering in the judiciary.

An outline of the more important features of the national convention recently held in Richmond, Va., constituted a part of the program as well as the impressions and experiences of local members serving on grand and petit juries in Norristown.

Complete registration data will be available and plans started for the get-out-the-vote campaign, the latter having been constituted an annual fixture. At the conclusion of the program there will be a social hour with Mrs. W. S. Horner as hostess. A cordial invitation is extended to all women of Narberth to attend this meeting whether members or not.

Eastern County Conference members of the local board will be among the guests at luncheon at the home of Miss Martha G. Thomas, Whiteford, Pa., on Thursday, May 14.

This is an all-day conference for county and local boards of Eastern counties when the national convention, the get-out-the-vote campaign and the State convention in November will be discussed.

Junior Notes.

The regular meeting of the Junior Community Club was held on Tuesday, May 5.

Plans were discussed for another card party to be held Saturday afternoon, May 23, on the lawn at Fittipaldi's, Merion avenue. Tickets will be one sale in a few days. Don't forget there will be a prize for each table.

All club members are urged to be out at the next meeting. There will be election of officers.

Mrs. Fowler asked the girls to give her a list of all girls between the ages of 21 and 25 who are not registered to vote.

Evelyn Patten gave several readings for our program.

LOWER MERION HIGH NEWS

Seniors Take State Scholarship Exams.

Last Friday examinations were taken for State scholarships—any high school senior being eligible to qualify. The scholarships are given annually by Senators at Harrisburg, and if won, the winner may choose any college in Pennsylvania for his Alma Mater.

Entries for college board examinations were also to be made last Friday at the high school, the actual examinations to be held on May 25.

Senior students were kept quite busy the whole of Friday writing on the annual historic essay, which is compulsory to every senior. The essay is to be written on the history of education in Lower Merion township, and at commencement time three prizes are awarded for the best essay.

C. M. T. C. and Nutrition Talks.

Monday morning Major E. H. Hicks, commander of the Citizens' Military Training Camp in this section, talked about the advantages and benefits of Camp Meade for high school boys. The major stated the qualifications for the camp were that the boy must be from 17 to 24 years of age and must have the consent of his parents before he may go. Every cost, from clothing down to carfare, is guaranteed to be paid by the United States Government, and as there are only 90 boys from Montgomery county allowed to go to this camp for one month every year, ye stude had better hurry in his application.

Tuesday morning Miss Angelina V. Heenan, of the Interstate Dairy Council, lectured on nutrition, diets and edibles of the many different nations and races. Her lecture was very interestingly illustrated and she sloganized the school with "use more milk, green vegetables and fruits."

L. M. Nine Trounces Rivals.

Friday afternoon of last week the Lower Merion baseball team trounced the Chester High leaguers into submission. The excellent hurling of Ruddick and Fuller enabled the Merionites to win with a 9 to 4 advantage.

On Tuesday afternoon Gloucester High met defeat at the hands of the Maroon and White sluggers by a 5 to 1 score. Derry Fuller, star pitcher of the Merionites, placed three hits, one a homer, another a triple and the third a double-sacker.

Shake Gloomy Track Prophecy.

Lower Merion was predicted to have a bad year in track and even though it lost its first dual meet to Haverford the second meet turned out a huge success. At the Swarthmore College Interscholastics the Grisonites pulled the unexpected and came through with flying colors, downing Palmyra and Atlantic City, who were figured to clean up. The total of Lower Merion's tallies netted 30 1-5 points and Atlantic City, their nearest competitor, concluded with a meager 15 points.

The Lower Merion Chapter of the Hi Y Club had as speaker last week Eddie Farrell, captain of the Penn baseball team. Eddie spoke on campus activities and on college baseball. Following the talk Coach Grigson and Edwin Peake gave some interesting facts on personal hygiene.

Thursday.

Just to remind you that "The Colonel's Maid," a three-act comedy, will be presented by an all-star cast of the Narberth Epworth League on Thursday, May 14, at 8 P. M. at Elm Hall. Tickets 50 cents.

The Girl Scout Cake Sale will be held in Dando's store on May 16, at 9.30 A. M.

Nothing out of place is good, nothing in its place is bad.—Walt Whitman.

Soils and Fertilizers.

My! What a subject to cover in a half column! Pages have been written and pages will be written but we will have to condense this to a few short paragraphs.

Practically all soil, except that of the desert and the Arctic regions, is good growing soil for some plants. The necessary salts and chemicals are contained in the soil and nature makes them available in the form of plant food by her different processes.

The first lesson for the gardener to learn is that the soil must be made right physically or mechanically. Clay soil contains all the necessary elements for plant growth, but—clay soil is not of the correct texture to take moisture to the plant roots, to suspend moisture about the plant roots or to be readily cultivated to keep out undesirable plant growth such as weeds. Nor will clay soil allow sufficient air passages to the plant roots.

Then let us put the soil in good physical condition by mixing with it substances that will change its texture and make it friable, loamy and moisture holding. To add moisture holding body to sandy soil or to lighten and break up clayey soil we must add humus.

Q.—What is humus? A.—Humus is well-decayed leaves, or woods soil. Humus is well-decayed animal refuse. Humus is well-decayed vegetable matter. Humus is the element that keeps the soil open and allows air and moisture to reach the plant roots and at the same time holds the moisture about the plant roots. Note that in adding humus to the soil we are returning material that came either directly or indirectly from the soil.

Q.—Why do we want moisture in the soil? A.—Because the plant takes its food in liquid form through its rootlets, selecting the elements it requires—aided by bacteria in the soil.

Soil that is physically correct for plant growth will grow practically any crop or plant that is suited to the climate, rainfall and general weather and sun and shade condition.

Q.—Why so much talk about fertilizing? A.—A good bit of the talk about fertilizing is sheer bunk, because most of the fertilizing is done with animal manures, which do add some chemical elements for a month or two until they are leached out by the rains, but—their chief value is in adding humus to a soil that is lacking in a sufficient quantity of that all-important element.

All animal manures, unless very well rotted, are apt to help develop fungus diseases that are injurious to many plants, especially delphiniums and roses. Animal manures contain a high percentage of nitrogen which makes leaf growth. Fine in the vegetable garden but no good in the flower garden.

Ground bone adds mostly phosphorus, with a little lime, which hastens the maturity of the plant and makes bud and blossom, fruit and seed.

Hard wood ashes, or tobacco stems and leaves, add potash which makes the stem and root and makes a healthier plant generally, one that is less susceptible to disease.

These are the three principal elements used for plant forcing and there are many forms, variations and combination of the same major elements.

Sunday is Mother's day. Some flowers or a plant will show that you did not forget the best mother in the world.

Leaves General Store.

J. D. Conley has severed his connection with the Narberth General Store on Haverford avenue.

Mr. Conley was appointed manager of the then Narberth Variety Store when it was founded by C. P. Cook. Last month the business was purchased by Vincent Mariani, and the name changed. Mr. Conley remained as manager until the new owner became familiar with the business.

Registration.

Because of the unfamiliarity with the laws of registration governing cities, where personal registration is required and those of boroughs obtained through the annual house to house visit, resulting in confusion and oftentimes the non-registration of newcomers, the League of Women Voters is taking this opportunity to present the law affecting registration in Narberth.

"In boroughs and townships the list of enrolled registered voters is made up by the assessor of the election district.

"It is the assessor's duty to visit in person every dwelling house in his district on the first Monday in May, of each year, or as soon thereafter as may be possible, and to make a list in a book prepared for the purpose by the County Commissioners of all the qualified voters he shall find to be bona fide residents of his district." In addition the law requires that he sit at the polling place on the two secular days next preceding the day fixed for returning the lists to the county commissioners from 10 A. M. to 3 P. M. and from 6 P. M. to 9 P. M. to correct the "original list." These days for the primary election of September are July 14 and July 15.

Further information is supplied by giving below the names and addresses of the registrars of Narberth.

Ward No. 1—Louise V. Cockrill, 215 Hampden avenue, polling place, Fire Hall.

Ward No. 2—Ella Murray, 432 Dudley avenue, polling place, garage, corner Essex and Haverford avenue.

Ward No. 3—Abbie Nickerson, 111 Elmwood avenue, polling place, Scout house.

In the last election 67½ per cent. of the registered voters in Narberth voted. The League of Women Voters will again launch its get-out-the-vote campaign. Proper registration is a fundamental requisite for success in this movement. Insist upon being properly registered and help to increase the borough's voting strength.

Now that the Karnival is over you ladies of Narberth Community Club will have more time to visit us, look us over and note our prices.

We think we have the nicest store in Narberth and we are willing to stand argument.

The "Montco" line of canned goods, mayonnaise, etc., which you featured at your Karnival is the very line we will offer you at our Karnival.

We take considerable pride in what we sell and are no less proud of the money-saving advantages we offer you.

Some one called us Narberth's egg headquarters, but we want you to consider us headquarters for all your table requirements, though we must admit we do specialize on our Good Dependable Lancaster County Fresh-Laid Eggs.

The Narberth National Bank

Takes Pride in Opening its Doors to the Community

As a structural contribution to the business section of Narberth, it is architecturally a building of distinctiveness and beauty. As a definite contribution to the commercial progress of Narberth, it is an organization that will meet the banking needs of every interested citizen.

Because it is Narberth's own achievements, its list of Depositors should contain many of Narberth's own people.

Because it is a National institution, it should attract all who realize the additional benefits thus to be derived.

We offer a Bank large enough to inspire the confidence of its customers, but not too large to give every consideration to the interests of every customer.

DEPOSIT BOXES

Every one should keep valuable papers in a Safety Deposit Box. Deeds, insurance policies, stocks, bonds, wills, etc., are valuable papers.

CHECKING ACCOUNTS

Pay your bills by check and the cancelled check constitutes the best receipt you can get.

SAVINGS ACCOUNTS

Build up a savings account by systematic saving. Start one for the Baby and insure a fund for educational purposes.

INVESTMENTS

Advice will be cheerfully given on investing your funds and the safety of an investment looked into carefully in order to protect you from making a bad investment.

TOURING

Steamship tickets and information covering travels to every part of the world is a worthwhile service this Bank will furnish.

COMFORT DEFENDS
MODERN STUDENTS

Haverford College President Blames
Preachers for Lack of Religious Interest.

Religious "modernism" pervades American colleges and universities today, and a new message for the youth of the land is needed to offset the effect "this irreverent age" will exert on the religion of the future.

This is the view of Dr. W. W. Comfort, president of Haverford College, as expressed Monday at a meeting of the Presbyterian Ministers' Association. He stressed the fact that the "modernist" in the form of a college student "cannot be reached today with the message of 40 years ago."

Despite his belief that the average student of today is a modernist, religiously, he is nevertheless "away ahead" of the student of 40 years ago physically, morally and intellectually, Dr. Comfort said.

"The age in which we are living," said Dr. Comfort, "is as irreverent as any age in history."

"The generation of today, is, on the surface, a fine generation. But one of the troubles with it is that the majority of speakers cannot reach our young men. Possibly, I might add, this is the fault of the speakers, and not of the generation of today."

"The average student does not go to church and does not want to go. This is not hostility, but a feeling that a speaker cannot say anything that will be of benefit to the individual."

"It is a rare man who can get these boys of the present generation into church and prove things to them. The message which sufficed in our own youth will not do that."

"The cause of this change, in my opinion, is a shift in the social standing since the war. This shift is due to the fact that our boys are living in a larger world. Their interests are more diverse. There is more speed."

"These boys have a terrible thirst for moral and spiritual realities. Their thirst for the spiritual realities causes them to turn to the New Testament and discard the Old."

He voiced the belief that the Old Testament means little to the present-day student, in slight part because of his interest in scientific studies. On the other hand, the speaker said, the New Testament teaches him something in accordance with his own life.

"The youth of today are more adventurous than we were," said Dr. Comfort. "This, too, is an aftermath of the war. They are more restless and more apt to be discoverers. Increasingly they are studying science and all that goes with it."

"There was never more dancing than today, but I do not think there is an immoral tendency there. They are playing more cards, but I do not see much harm in that."

"Physically, intellectually and morally the college student of today is away ahead of the student of 40 years ago."

"The only way in which ministerial bodies can cope with the increasing doubt and indecision of college students is to adopt a modernized medium of instruction in theology."

CITIZENS' ARMY CAMPS
LAUDED BY MAJOR HICKS

Quotes Roosevelt and Harding in Lower Merion High Address.

"The military tent where boys side by side will rank next to the public school among the great agents of democracy," was the opinion expressed by Theodore Roosevelt, of the citizens' military training idea, as practiced, first at Plattsburg, and now at the Citizens' Military Training camps, explained Major H. E. Hicks, speaking in behalf of the camps at the Lower Merion High School Monday.

"The great men of the nation have been back of this idea since it was first started," said Major Hicks, addressing more than 500 boys. "President Warren G. Harding most heartily indorsed the plan and placed upon it his stamp of approval."

Major Hicks is assigned to duty at the Citizens' Military Training camps' headquarters, No. 135 South Broad street, and recently was appointed military aide to Mayor Kendrick to assist with the military activities of the Sesqui-centennial.

SUBURBANITES WAGING
WAR ON CATERPILLARS

Oil-Soaked Torches Light Up Districts
In Fight.

Suburbanites have declared war on the flocks of caterpillars that came with the advent of spring.

Herman Hornig, city entomologist, refuted the theory that the pest reappear in enormous numbers every seven years, when he explained that the caterpillars now nesting developed from eggs deposited last July and August, and that the crop is especially heavy this year because weather conditions favored the insects.

"If there was much rain," he said, "the nests would have been washed or shaken from the trees and bushes and the caterpillars would have been exposed to the birds."

Torches made from oil-soaked rags at the end of a stick, the favorite weapons for the extermination of the pests, have lit up the suburban sections at night during the past week.

"This is not necessary," Mr. Hornig adds. "It would be equally effective to knock the nests with a stick. They remain in their nests during the day and emerge at night for food to avoid the birds."

Tent caterpillars attain a length of from one and a half to two inches, and remain above ground until the fall, when they bore under the surface later to emerge as moths.

Prize for Tax Report.

The Pennsylvania League of Women Voters has offered a prize to the league of any county in the State that sends in the most complete information about its tax collection, and Miss Gertrude Ely, chairman of the Montgomery County League, is appointing a committee of five to accumulate data in reference to the collection of taxes in Montgomery county.

MISS SCOTT WINS

Her Horses Capture Prizes at New York Show.

Miss Jean Brown Scott, daughter of John R. K. Scott, "Glenhardie Farms," Strafford, formerly of Cynwyd, won the blue ribbon in the "over 15.2 hands class" of the New York Horse Show Saturday, with her imported champion mount, "Knight Commander," defeating the American champion, "Terrington Witchery."

Miss Scott also won the ladies' phaeton class with her other English hackney, "Newton Victor," and carried off a total of eight blue and four red ribbons in the show. Her show horses were shown this week at the Philadelphia Indoor Horse Show. They will also be exhibited later at Devon.

50,000 AT A TIME

BETWEEN 9 and 10 in the morning, each weekday, 450,000 local calls are handled in the Bell central offices of Pennsylvania.

This is one-tenth of the daily grist of 4,500,000 calls.

During every minute of this "peak hour" 50,000 people are talking—at the same time. 900,000 have talked before the hour is up.

The organizing for this traffic is no first-thing-in-the-morning job. In every central office the type and design of equipment, its volume, and the size of the operating force is based on advance calculations of the traffic expectancy, down to a fraction of a call per telephone per day.

Some unexpected happening in the community, affecting a large portion of the populace, may upset these calculations. But with reserves to call on, the Chief Operators, whose forces now number 10,600, have met many a traffic overload of 30 per cent. without a break.

In the machine-switching offices there are proportionate margins in equipment.

And to speed and accuracy of service is added the important element of reliability.

SCHOOL NOTES

Annual Operetta to be Given Next Friday.

A spirit of excitement now prevails throughout the whole school for every one is preparing for the annual operetta. All the teachers have thrown themselves wholeheartedly into the work, Miss
Speakman to train the singers,
Miss Jenkins to teach the speaking parts, Miss Jantzen to paint the scenery, Miss Eames to make the costumes and Miss Church to train the dancers. Last year, you remember, an excellent operetta was given and enjoyed by all. The play this year is of an entirely different type and, we think, more enjoyable than the previous one.
The "Riddle of Isis" will be given on Friday, May 15, at 8.30 o'clock.
Keep that date open and tell your friends about this delightful operetta and the complicated, difficult riddle to be solved.

Honors for Fifth Period.

First honors: Grade VIII,
Ruth Hopkins, Ernestine Hunt,
Elizabeth Terry; Grade VII,
Betty Jones.

Second honors: Grade IX,
Robert Barclay, John Uberti;
Grade VIII, Richard Banks, Fred
Bates, William Henderson, Katharine Smith and Helga Wohler;
Grade VII, Phyllis Grant, Alice
Monks, Dorothy Miller, Jane
Murray, John Snyder.

On Tuesday, April 19, there will be a dual track meet at Lower Merion High School in which the Narberth team will participate.
This will be the last track meet before the Suburban Junior High School Track and Field Meet where Narberth will compete with other junior high schools for the suburban championship. Our track team is strong in the weight events and is fairly good in the dash.

Editors for this issue—Elizabeth Terry and Richard Banks.

Auxiliary to Meet.

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Presbyterian Church will be held in the church on Wednesday, May 13, from 10 until 4 o'clock.

All ladies having Red Cross aprons kindly bring them for Red Cross work.

On account of the new church building operations each woman is requested to bring her own box lunch.

Everybody welcome!

The May meeting of the Westminster Circle will be held in the Sunday school rooms of the church on Thursday evening, May 14. Mrs.
Van Ness, Mrs. Manning and Mrs.
McCulley are the hostesses.

OUR TOWN

SOME SECOND HAND FURNITURE IS WANTED

Library Needs Tables and Book Shelves.

The library work is growing apace much to every one's delight, much to every one's dismay. Book shelves provided to take care of 100 books are soon asked to house 200. New volumes entering the library with an understood agreement that they should stand with dignity in regular rows side by side are forced to lie one on top of another wherever they can be crowded in. Tables given for the purpose of displaying magazines find themselves in daily receipt of complaints from the publishers and readers of the magazines who claim that front covers are no longer of value. Is there anyone to relieve the situation?

Any old tables, kitchen or otherwise, or bureaus, or book shelves may be made to help out in this emergency if brought to the library as soon as possible, or by telephoning to the librarian, Mrs. Robert F. Wood, Narberth 1031, they will be called for.

Naturally the library and the borough would like to have a fine building with fine equipment, but after all a library is a collection of books, and when the present collection is perfected concentration may be made on other things. And in this connection it may be said that favorable comment is frequently heard on the fine selection of books found in the present library. Will all friends of the library search for any equipment in the way of tables and shelves that they think can possibly be of any use?

Following is a list of the new books purchased in April, now clamoring with many others for room on the shelves:

penter shop and garage were viewed in turn, the work and machinery of each department being explained in detail to the young guests.

Around the walls of the cafeteria on the top floor of the building a Marine Corps' artist has painted some splendid murals in oil, depicting historical events in the history of the marines. The boys examined these paintings in detail. They saw painted reproductions of marines in action in Mexico, in Cuba, in far-off Tripoli, and elsewhere, where the Soldiers of the Sea have gone into action in the 150 years they have been serving America.

Then chow call blew. The Scouts were served with sandwiches, pie, cake, lemonade and other food in sufficient quantity to satisfy the appetite of growing boys. Shortly afterward the Scouts left the building to witness the parade of Philadelphia youngsters, who were making an auspicious beginning for Boys' Week.

Captain W. J. Crosson, a resident of Narberth, made arrangement for the outing with the officials of the Boy Scouts. The captain had been asked to address the boys, but believed a visit of the lads to the Marine Corps depot would be both entertaining and educational, and would doubtless be remembered by the boys for years. Colonel C. S. Radford, who has charge of the depot, readily consented to the arrangement and was delighted to have the Narberth Scouts as guests.

The Mack International Motor Truck Corporation furnished transportation.

The committeemen present were: W. C. Claghorn, chairman; A. N. Edrop, E. K. Monnington, E. T. Wolf, E. A. Lanahan, J. S. Harris and Lieutenant Commander Van Auker.

LEAGUE LUNCHEON

ward Germany, whose best customer each is of the other. In her old-age pension and some other measures England appears to be approaching a State socialism with principles somewhat allied to bolshevism.

Nearness to peace then, probably depends to a considerable extent upon a continuation of the Dawes plan and a steady growth of the League of Nations, with security for France, who faces Germany and for Germany with enemies on the east and west, and it depends also largely upon what policy the United States adopts in regard to any protocol agreement of the other great nations. It is hoped that we can give assurance to the next council meeting of the League of Nations considering a protocol that even if we cannot actively support such an agreement, we will at least do nothing to block it.

Mrs. John O. Miller, president of the State League, was the next speaker. She spoke on the "1925 Legislature" which she characterized as being led by divided leadership, and by a policy of unintelligent extravagance. The noteworthy fact of a real budget being presented and considered was something which she felt all good citizens should insist should become an established custom. She deplored the bonding system as a dangerous method of financing and urged that a pay-as-you-go-policy be adopted in Pennsylvania. She reported that any bond issue that carries over 30 years costs more than twice as much as the capital sum. Speaking of the Ludlow bill for improvement in the methods of tax collecting, she said it failed because Pennsylvania is close to a gubernatorial campaign in which many persons aiming to be even remotely connected with it, do not want to arouse the antagonism of tax collectors and because few people have any definite knowledge of the great costs of tax collecting under the present system. Mrs. Miller announced that it was the intention of the League of Women Voters soon to make a scientific study and report of costs of all kinds of tax collecting.

It is a matter of congratulation that the 1925 Legislature assured women equality with men in guardianship of children and created a commission to study the legal status of married women. Through alertness and quick action by the League a bill designed to curtail women's jury duty service was modified to an unobjectionable degree.

The results of the get-out-the-vote-campaign were announced by Mrs. C. P. Fowler, chairman of this campaign. The Third ward of Jenkintown led with an 81 per cent. vote while Narberth and Elkins Park each got out over 75 per cent. of the registered voters. All other districts that entered the campaign showed good results.

Miss Gertrude Ely, of Bryn Mawr, county chairman of the league, was the last speaker. She reviewed the recent convention of the National League of Women Voters, speaking of its re-endorsement of the child-labor amendment, the World Court, and other vital questions. She urged that new members be secured for the various Leagues of Women Voters and that they all do everything to promote increased registration of voters this spring. She also urged that women become better acquainted personally with their legislators and assessors.

To Aid Assessors.

Plans for assistance in increased registration of voters were discussed at the Monthly meeting of the Montgomery County League of Women Voters Borough and Township Chairmen, held in Philadelphia, on May 4. The women decided to become personally acquainted with assessors and their work with a view to knowing what sort of persons hold these positions and whether they are able to do their work as completely as it should be done.

Announcement was made that the State League would offer a prize for the best report on the costs of collecting taxes of all kinds in Pennsylvania.

It was agreed that an effort would be made to have local leagues invite to a special meeting, young women who had reached voting age within the year, such meetings to be "Citizenship Birthday Parties," to interest the young people in their new privileges and responsibilities.
